"To Petrino"

Lefkas:

The island of Lefkas, joined to the Greek mainland by a lifting bridge, is a beautiful island to explore. The west coast has wonderful views down steep cliffs to pristine white beaches, recognised as some of the finest in Europe, with the bluest of water. The interior is home to interesting old villages whose people are untouched by time and there is always a taverna happy to serve you. It is a place to visit in the high season months if school holidays dictate but also a place to enjoy and relax all the year round.

The capital, Lefkas Town, (about 25 mins drive from "To Petrino") is fascinating with ethnic shops, narrow streets and a new yacht marina. Just out of town is the stunning windmill beach providing a world-class location for kite and wind surfers. The island's east coast with its many sheltered bays is very popular with yachts. Nidri, a mile down the hill from "To Petrino" is a thriving little town on the waterfront, with local boats offering day trips to neighbouring islands.

There are plenty of shops, supermarkets, banks and a good selection of restaurants as well as bars and nightclubs for the young.

Cars, bikes and boats are all available to rent.

Mountain biking can be enjoyed in the hills above and there are wonderful walks.

Air Travel:

Between May and end October several charter flights fly from Gatwick and Manchester on Sundays to the local airport at Preveza on the mainland. Preveza is some 40 minutes drive to the villa.

Airfares start at about £180 return and we recommend you contact Satellite Travel on 020 8643 3666.

We can arrange for taxis to meet your flight or you can rent a car.

Car hire:

A car is probably essential for your stay and can be picked up either at the airport or in Nidri. The owners of "To Petrino" have close connections with Avis Hire Car, their e-mail address is: avislefk@otenet.gr or fax: 00302645 092440
